

SPECTATOR SPORTS

Greater Scranton offers tons of fun to sports fanatics including AHL hockey, NASCAR Winston Cup racing, AAA baseball and professional golf. Samples of the array of sporting activities you will find in Northeastern Pennsylvania include:

- The Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins (www.wbspenguins.com), the AHL affiliate of the Pittsburgh Penguins, play 40 annual home games at the $44 million Wachovia Arena at Casey Plaza.
- Pocono Raceway (www.poconoraceway.com), home to the Pocono 500, has been recognized as one of NASCAR's most competitive speedways. Located just 30 minutes from Scranton, Pocono Raceway features a 2.5 mile tri-oval course.
- The Scranton /Wilkes-Barre Red Barons (www.redbarons.com), the AAA affiliate of the Philadelphia Phillies, play 72 home games on Montage Mountain each season. Lackawanna County Stadium features 11,000 seats, great views and a roaring crowd.
- The Wilkes-Barre Scranton Pioneers (www.wbspioneers.com), a member of Arena Football League 2, play eight home games in the Wachovia Arena at Casey Plaza each season.

In addition to professional sporting events, a variety of high school and college athletics provide an endless supply of games and matches from which to choose. Weekend games are huge community events packing local stadiums and gymnasiums.

For more information about Sports and Recreation in Northeastern Pennsylvania, visit our web site at www.scrantonchamber.com or www.scrantonplan.com. Click Community Information and then Sports and Recreation.